

MaryPat Bamrick Adopt-a-Teacher Grant Program

MaryPat Bamrick, an active Jaycee, served the Long Beach Unified School District as an elementary school teacher for many years. In January 2004 she passed away from complications due to cancer. The Long Beach Jaycee Foundation (LBJCF) dedicates this project to her.

In recent years federal, state and local budget cuts have impacted educational programs in our community. As a result, many local teachers spend their own money to provide basic supplies for classrooms and students. Each year, the LBJCF raises funds to provide grants to deserving teachers based on the following application.
